TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1876.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

At church on Sunday morning Blaine was taken suddenly ill and remained unconscious for five hours. Our dispatches now report him so far recovered as to be out of danger.

Walter Monteith, one of the original proprietors of the town site of Albany, and extensively and favorably known on this coast, died at his residence yesterday afternoon of Pneumonia.

The Republican National Convention meets at Cincinnati to-morrow.

A Cincinnati dispatch says the serious illness of Blaine, just confirmed by a semi-official dispatch, increased the excitement among the delegates. No one ventures to predict the probable result.

The Herald's Cincinnati dispatch says Blaine's supporters mean to make a thorough trial of his strength on Wednesday.

A Washington dispatch dated the 11th says Kerr has been confined at Willard's Hotel in a very feeble state of health all day. At 10 P.M. he was reported a little easier, but his friends still express great anxiety.

From Cleveland the 11th we have the announcement that about three hundred citizens met last evening to express their views favoring the nomination of Bristow.

The news reached San Francisco yesterday that James H. Latham, the well known stock broker had died suddenly while on his way to Europe.

The National Gold Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco have resumed operations.

A Vienna correspondent gives a denial to the prevalent report and declares that there has been no question of a new conference between the three Imperial Chancellors.

A telegram from Constantinople says the eldest son and mother of the late Sultan have been murdered.

The funeral of George Sand took place at Nahant yesterday, and was attended by thousands of persons, although a heavy rain prevailed. Prince Jerome de Napoleon and Alexandre Dumas were among the pall-bearers. Paul Meurice read a eulogy by Victor Hugo.

Owing to the Eastern telegraph lines being down we are unable give our usual late dispatches.

THEODORE TILTON will locate in Chicago. Fires, tornados and TILTON. In truth, the way of the transgressor is hard.

The Graphic says a little wit will go farther in Congress than any other place in the known world. Clearly the Graphic has never seen a copy of the Los Angeles Express.

We are afraid FRANK PIXLY will do more to create the impression in the East that the people of California are more incendiarily frantic than legally earnest on the Chinese question.

THINKING people cannot get over the notion that ABDUL AZIZ was strangled to death and afterwards stabbed in the arm with a pair of scissors. The statement of nineteen doctors to the contrary notwithstanding.

BARCLAY HENLEY, of Sonoma county, is spoken of as a Democratic candidate against LUTTRELL. The "spoken of" is a good joke on LUTTRELL. The nomination and election would be a serious joke on the people of that district.

THE Spring Valley Water Company, of San Francisco, wants to water its stock from eight million to sixteen million. The watering process ought to be quite easy with a water company.

The anti-Chinese people about Carson, Nevada, are becoming violent in their demonstrations against the coolies and those who persist in employing them. This is the worst policy that could be adopted. It will accomplish no good result at home, and it will create a sympathy for the Chinese in the East. A few armed raids against the Chinese will at once destroy all hope of Congressional aid in relieving us of the Chinese curse.

Republican National Convention.

The Republican National Convention will convene at Cincinnati, to-morrow. The indications are that the representation will be very full and the Convention one of the most earnest and enthusiastic that has ever assembled. Like the majority of national conventions this one will be divided in opinion as to the candidate who should be nominated for President. BLAINE, BRISTOW and CONKLING are the prominent candidates and on the first ballot these three will poll nearly the entire vote. What shall follow is something no one can with certainty at this hour say. BLAINE will poll by far the largest vote, but he will not be nominated on the first and possibly on no succeeding ballot. If Bristow and Conkling could control their votes after the first trial of strength, one of them might win the prize or they at least could name the candidate. But in this respect BLAINE has a great advantage over his opponents. When the delegates cease to vote for CONKLING or Bristow, they absolve their allegiance to them and will vote for whomsoever they please. BLAINE's supporters are his friends and he will vote them as a unit, either for himself or the man he shall name. The signs indicate the nomination of BLAINE or his candidate.

Times—Here and Elsewhere.

With the suspension of the Bank of California began to be felt on the Pacific coast a money tightness under which the Eastern side of the continent had been struggling for some years. The cry of "hard times" had become monotonous in the East long before we realized money was not as abundant as of yore. Nor has this cry entirely ceased "over there," as the following extract from an article in a late number of the Bulletin fully demonstrates. "These are 'hard times' the world over. It is the complaint with which the United States have been suffering for over three years. There are symptoms of a like disease in England. There is a similar pinching felt in Germany and France. There are no bright industrial skies anywhere, except it be on the Pacific coast. The Palm Beach Gazette takes a gloomy view at times as the New York Tribune. The general inquiry just now is as to what causes it all? Quite a number of explanations might be furnished. For instance, our people are ground down with taxation. They are not able to purchase as freely of foreign commodities as formerly. The statistics of the Custom House establish that fact very clearly. Railroad building has also almost ceased, and there is little or no demand for English iron or English money. This condition of things no doubt reacts very sensibly on our foreign connections, especially England. We are not buying as many of her fabrics as we used. There is, therefore, only a reduced sale for her productions. We are not also eagerly competing for her surplus cash, therefore it lies idle." But we feel the tightening of the financial check-rein later, and free ourselves from its influence sooner than our friends over the mountains. In San Francisco there is a loosening of the purse strings, and money is, if not as easy as formerly, at least much easier than a few months ago. In our own locality we are recuperating rapidly. The stress brought on by the suspension of the Bank of California was increased almost to a panic by the failure of one of our local banking institutions, and for some weeks money could not be had at any price. But within the last two months there has been a very gratifying improvement. Our banks are to-day filled to overflowing with money, and the amount and number of depositors are steadily increasing. The surplus of funds is so great that our commercial banks are departing from their usual customs and loaning large sums on mortgages. The county Recorder's books show that from the 1st of May up to date our banks have loaned the following amounts on mortgages:

Farms' and Merchants' Bank.....$20,900
Commercial.....6,450
County.....2,500

Total on mortgages.....$30,850

A proportionate amount has of course been loaned on notes of hand and we are informed that loans made by private parties within the period named are also quite large. All this indicates an abundance of money and an early resumption of good times.

On satisfactory security, any amount of money may be obtained at any of our banks on reasonable terms.

Attempted Outrage at Salt Lake.

The Ogden Junction, June 6th says: Last Friday a daughter of Isador Morris, of Salt Lake, 9 years of age, was accosted on the street by a brute who pretended he was going to dine with her father, and who induced her to go with him "to get some ice cream." He led her next to the Jordan, where he attempted an outrage on her, but she got away from him and complained to her father, who has since been searching for him. On Sunday, evening, he discovered the scoundrel who was identified on the street by the child. Mr. Morris gave him a terrible beating and had him arrested. His name is J. S. Ryan, he was placed yesterday under $3,000 bonds to answer before the Grand Jury. Mr. Morris confessed to the assault, and was fined $5, which was very properly remitted by the Mayor.

An Incident at Reno.

Some wag, desirous of playing a trick on one of the best citizens of Reno, telegraphed him to have some salmon and fruit and other little fixings ready for the lightning train when it arrived at the Depot Hotel. How that busy gentleman hustled about town in search of salmon will long be remembered, but no such fish could be found, and he was obliged to be content with small fry, the shape of a dozen trout or so. He purchased boxes of strawberries and pie, and piled all up in a heap in front of the hotel, rubbed his hands in glee and informed the boys present that the train would stop in a few minutes. Judge of his surprise at seeing the train slip past like a streak of greased lightning! He looked around, heard a subdued laugh pass through the assembled crowd, and accepting the situation said, "Sold, by thunder, and invited all hands to smile, and smile that crowd did with a vengeance. In case mistakes should occur and the wrong man saddled with the joke we beg leave to state that W. R. Chamberlain, of the Depot Hotel, is not the man. We know this to be the fact because he sent us word it was another man just like him.—Carson Tribune.

[SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.]

PACIFIC COAST.

For Los Angeles.

KEENS, June 12th.—The Telegraph Stage on time with the following passengers for Los Angeles:—H. B. Ranchard, W. Doolan, L. Baker, S. M. Holmes.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12th.—A fire in the Call and Bulletin press rooms yesterday destroyed a lot of paper and damaged their eight cylinder press so much that it will take a week to repair it. The Call this morning was worked off on the Post press, all the papers in the city tendered their material and offices in aid to the Call and Bulletin.

Yesterday morning the shoe store of Frederick Moebus No. 6 Broadway wharf, was burglarized and several hundred dollars worth of stock taken. The thieves gained admittance by going under the wharf in a boat and tearing out the floor of the store.

Miss Lizzie Hanson who attempted to commit suicide at the county jail by hanging, die as it is thought some small bones of her neck were broken. She swung herself from the seat of the water closet, the strands of rope around her neck and placed around a corner of the door. She has been unconscious since the event.

Captain Fenn of the old military organization known as the Continentals is busily engaged in mustering the volunteers of that company to join in the 4th of July parade. The uniform is that of the American Continentals, and the weapon carried will be simply the old flint musket.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Silver coin, 4 to 5 and trade dollars, 7 to 8 per cent. discount.

There are five cases of small-pox reported within the last two days.

To-day has been one of the hottest days on record, the thermometer having stood at 92° in the shade.

The steamer City of Sydney arrived from Panama to-day. She brings news of the loss of the Guatemalan gunboat General Berrios, at San Juan de Guatema. All the crew and officers were saved, but sixteen soldiers were drowned.

A Washington Bulletin issued at eight o'clock A. M., says Blaine has improved steadily and is now sleeping quietly; he has improved steadily all night, and his symptoms are favorable to an early and complete recovery. All that is necessary is rest. To-day at this hour, nine o'clock, he is sleeping comfortably.

Blaine and His Prospects.

CINCINNATI, June 12th.—A dispatch from Washington dated 10 A. M. says Blaine continues to improve and is now out of danger. 11:30 A. M.—The New York Republican club, two hundred strong, with the Ninth Regiment band at the head, is now marching through the streets and creates considerable enthusiasm. No meeting of the friends of the different delegations are called for to-night. The announcement of a decided improvement in Blaine's health this morning was received with great satisfaction, and was especially encouraging to his friends. The slate for organization seems to be Pomeroy of New York for temporary, and Gen. Harlan, of Kentucky, for permanent chairman. Delegates and prominent citizens are arriving in an early train. The Alabama delegation is just in. The Ninth Regiment band this morning, in behalf of the Republican club, tendered a serenade to Dr. Henry Highland Garnett and other delegates at the Grand Hotel. R. H. Dana and Prof. Lowell of Colorado, and the remainder of the Illinois delegation also have just arrived and were received at the Blaine headquarters. Senators Logan and Hamlin, anticipating their arrival, had made arrangements for their reception. Blaine's friends now assert that his strength in the Convention will be fully up to the figures claimed for him. The Morton men are also loud in their exultation this forenoon over their gains. Another large delegation from Indiana arrived and say there are thousands more to come. Bristow men are earnest but not so confident. They say they have the masses but no workers.

Death from Leprosy near Truckee.

[From the Truckee Republican, June 7th.]

A Chinaman died a few days ago in a house across the river from town, from genuine leprosy. The fingers of both hands and feet in many portions of the body were terribly wasted away by the disease and white leprosy scales covered his arms and body. He was a shocking spectacle. His countrymen had abandoned him and in a little desolate room, alone and neglected death found him.

Black Roses.

The Stockton Independent of June 8th says: C. G. Earnest, of this city, has for a number of years experimented in the production of variously colored roses and succeeded in growing some almost as black as ink. His plan was to engrave a slip of dark red rose on an oak tree, where they grew, flourished and died; in many portions of the body were terribly wasted away by the disease and white leprosy scales covered his arms and body. He was a shocking spectacle. His countrymen had abandoned him and in a little desolate room, alone and neglected death found him.

Olé Bull and his Wife.

We learn from private sources that Ole Bull, during the past winter, and on the circuit of a concert tour in Continental cities, represented to his Norwegian countrymen there that he had not only finally separated from his wife, but that he never was legally married to her. Evidence of the legality of the marriage can easily be obtained. But there has been no understanding and separation, and that Ole Bull will never again take up abode and board with his young American wife, unless forced to it, there is no doubt whatever.—Cincinnati Commercial.

The Bouquet Season.

The Burlington Hawkeye says: It is coming time for newspapers of the Republic to term with paragraphs containing the effusive thanks of the editor to some lady for a bouquet, which sheds its grateful aroma through his dreary sanctum, lighting it up with bright memories of the past that come and go like the changing light and shadows of phantasmagoria. Everybody knows it is all the lie, and in eighty-nine years' experience we never saw but one bouquet in an editorial room and it was a couple of prize turnips lying in the wood box, but bouquet paragraph is always good to fill up with and it is always popular especially with callow editors.

The Yreka Union of June 2d says:

Another heavy frost occurred on Wednesday morning, doing considerable more damage to fruit and "sich like." Vegetables suffered badly, and if we have many more frosts it is doubtful if we will have any vegetables till Fall. New potatoes are generally in the market before this time, but there are none to be had yet. In conversation with a prominent vegetable grower of Hawkinsville the other day he informed us that he had planted two crops already this season, and the frost had killed them both as soon as they came up, and he was considering whether he should plant the third time or give it up in disgust.

Our friend Mr. L. E. Page is again entitled to our congratulations. This time not in a business way nor yet in the very common family event, wherein congratulations are tendered, but he is a happy father-in-law. Yesterday his daughter, Miss Mary Page was united in the bonds of wedlock, to Mr. John Boshow. The knot was tied at the Catholic church, Rev. Father Verdegue officiating. After the ceremony a fine reception was given by the parents of the bride at their family residence. Many of our leading citizens were present, and they discussed royal viands and the choices wines with a gusto. During the festivities, the company were serenaded by one of our city bands. Of course Mr. Page did not overlook his friend the printer, and our table was duly graced by a modicum of champagne and cake. Go-d-wishes and congratulations are in order all the way.

Language of the Ring.

An exchange gives the following important information:

In case of a gentleman wishing to marry—literally in the market with his heart—he wears a plain or chased gold ring upon the first finger of the left (or heart) hand.

When success attends his suit and he is actually engaged, the ring passes to the second finger.

After marriage it passes to the third finger.

If, however, the gent des're to tell the fair ones that he not only is not in the market, but he does not design to marry at all, he wears the signet upon his little finger, and all ladies may understand that he is out of their reach.

With the fair sex the "laws of the ring" are:

A plain or chased ring on the little finger of the right hand implies "not engaged," or, in plainer words, "ready for proposals, sealed or otherwise."

When engaged the ring passes to the first finger of the left hand.

When married the third finger receives it.

If the fair one proposes to defy all siege to her heart, she places the rings on her first and fourth finger—one on each, like two charms to keep away the tempter. It is somewhat singular that this disposition of rings is rare!
